

CLOSING TRIANGLES

- Both interested in the same thing
- One can help the other out
- Often one is from your periphery

BREAKOUT GROUPS ON CLOSING TRIANGLES

1. Introduce yourself and tell something most people don't know about you and put your email in the chat.
2. Everyone suggests a simple challenge they are facing, a need, expertise or resource or connection to someone else doing this.
3. Others in the group share the name of a person or group (might be themselves) who might help them. If appropriate, that person could do an email introduction or at least share the person's email address..
4. At the end of the group session, click on the email of the person mentioned in chat and send a message
